

The Sammi Schulz Leather Leadership Award

In each community there are groups, clubs and organizations striving to educate and provide opportunities for social interaction. There are also individuals who are helping setup, tear down, teach, donate, coordinate, and plan these events. Our community relies on the generosity and efforts of these people to help promote a positive image of our lifestyle and who give freely of themselves for the betterment of our community. Because of these folks, The SC Leather Contest wants to recognize these groups and/or the volunteers who donate their time, talents, and resources that keep our community growing!

Born and raised in Lexington, SC, Sammi Schulz was one of the first leaders the SC Leather community. A member of The New Tribe 1987-1990 and first SC Leatherman to hold a Regional Leather Title, Mid-Atlantic Drummer boy, 1988. He went to San Francisco for the national Drummer boy title. He did not win, but was first to represent SC in a national contest and noticed for his efforts by the Southeastern Leather Community.

If you know of a group or individual that has had a positive impact on the SC community, please consider submitting a nomination for the Leather Leadership Award. This award is not limited in numbers, but is based upon the merits of the written nominations.

Please take a moment and nominate an individual or group today!

Nomination Guidelines:

As with all awards, there are a few rules that need to be followed. Please read them before you make your nomination.

1. No self nominations.
2. Nominations must come from an outside party. Meaning the nomination must come from someone who is not in a relationship with the nominee (i.e. spouse, significant other, dominant, submissive etc.).
3. Recipients must be a resident of SC and must have resided in the state for at least one year.
4. Persons on the selection committee are ineligible. This year's selection committee is The South Carolina Leather Contest Organizing Committee.
5. The nominees do not have to be present to win.
6. Certain volunteers for The SCLC not on the organizing committee may elect to disqualify themselves for this award. This is their choice and The SCLC will honor their decision.

Failure to adhere to the above rules and restrictions will result in the nomination being disqualified.
